

ZyDesk | Attention

Fast and efficient communication when it really matters

Get alarms on your phone

Many corporations have a need for an alarm- or messaging-system, which can be activated within seconds and send relevant messages to the right people.

Messages in an emergency

When you need to send an urgent message to the entire company or parts hereof, it takes time to gather telephone, cell phone and pager numbers, and e-mail addresses.

With ZyView Attention you can notify or alert your colleagues from your telephone. It is easy to choose the kind of communication (text messages, sounds, etc.) and the group of co-workers to receive the communication.

This solution is particularly suited for healthcare, educational organizations, building and construction, production companies and many more. However, any company in need for communicating fast and precisely can benefit from ZyView Attention.

A flexible solution

ZyView Attention is flexible and can be applied according to the specific needs of the company.

ZyView Attention is a part of Zylinc's ZyView suite and can be implemented as stand alone or integrated with one or more of the other ZyView applications in the ZyView suite such as ZyView Time, ZyView ID, ZyView Absence.
